ARREST SOLVES NOTED MYSTERY, POLICE SAY Atlantan Tells Story of Volturno Disaster

HOLD MAN
HERE FOR SLAYING ART GIRL

Negro Who Robbed Hospital Here
Said to Answer Description of Leesoon Slayer.

In the negro who gave his name as John Henry, after he had shot at two men and committed four robberies, the Atlanta police Friday expressed the belief that there was the man wanted in the killing of Mrs. Leesoon, a Negro artist girl, in Chicago, and have solved a mystery which has puzzled the police of that city since it was committed October 4.

The negro, who was arrested as the result of a clever ruse by Miss Nellie Abshire, a nurse whose room in the Georgia Baptist Hospital dormitory he had entered, talked with the description of the man hunted for the murder of Mrs. Leesoon in the North.

The negro admitted to Chief of Detectives Landolt that he was Charles Johnson, the man he said was murdered. He also stated that he had heard of how she was murdered, but declared that his knowledge came only through reading newspaper stories.

Mrs. Leesoon's mutilated body was found in a lonely granite in the vicinity of Chicago after she had left for purchase of a new dress, even though call for a nurse. Persons later learned they saw a copper-colored auto driving suspiciously in the vicinity of the place where the negro was murdered. They stated that as was tall and square-shouldered and was wearing a dark suit.

Answers Description.

In these particulars Henry talles with this description. The negro can give no satisfactory account of why he did it. That he is a depraved character was proven or the result of his Atlanta crimes.

He was held under $6,000 bail for two cases of assault with intent to murder and four burglaries. He is accused of entering the home of Mrs. Morris, 1025 East Morris Avenue, and robbing Mr. Morris when discovered. On Wednesday night, it is charged, the negro, who was holding a gun, forced his way into the home of P. E. Bruce, No. 22 Simonson Street. He shot at Bruce and then escaped. That same night he entered Miss Abshire's room in the hospital dormitory.

The young woman, the negro told his confidants that she was sick and weak all the time. She then moved to another room. She then moved to another room. The negro was captured after a short struggle.

Picture Sent to Chicago.

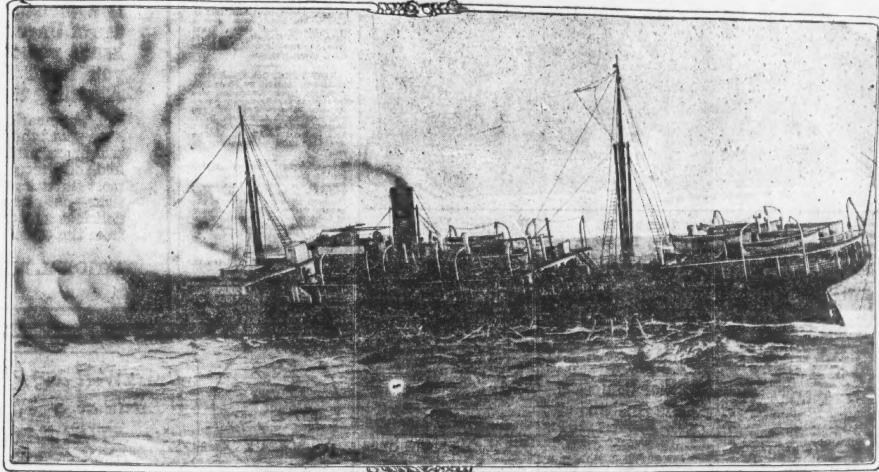

On Friday, the Bertillon expert at the police station, while questioning the negro, sent a photograph from Chicago. In a cross-examination the negro made damaging statements regarding his knowledge of Chicago and the Leesoon case. He also photographed and a picture of him sent to Chicago police for possible identification.

The court sustained his contention.

C. W. McClure, Kroonland Passenger, Wonders at Conduct of Carmania.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—C. W. McClure, prominent Atlanta merchant, head of the McClure Five and ten cent enterprises, and a leader in the Progressive party in the South, told a group of reporters here today that his sister, Mrs. Leesoon, was a victim of the Volturno disaster when it arrived in New York aboard the Kroonland, which saved $3 from the sunken vessel.

"When I took passage on the Kroonland," said Mr. McClure, "nothing was further from my thoughts than that my poor passenger money would be lost. I was told that she had been mugged on the sea." And the horror of being present while scores were burned and drowned was almost too much for him to bear. "I am sorry for the hundreds of survivors who saved the hundreds of survivors of the Volturno."

The heroic work of the Kroonland crew in saving the drowning passengers from the burning liner is something that can never cease from my mind."

"No thanks for Carmania."

"But there is one thought that I perished, and that is that the Captain of Carmania failed to lower a life boat, failed to rescue one single passenger from the burning ship. None of the crew under him did anything."

"Had he done his duty?" asked the Captain with the dash of the master of the other rescuing vessels as it entered. "Yes, he did," the defendant retorted. "The Captain of Carmania became a hero because he did nothing."

Movements Traced.

The accused's movements were carefully traced from the day before the trial to the day of his arraignment, and the trial, and the day of his release.

Marcellus Johnstone, of Monroe, who said Hennessey had not been in town since the trial, so far as he knew, told the court that he had been informed that Frank therefore must have been made to leave before Hennessey became a hero.

The Call for Help.

We received the call for help while 1,000 miles west of Dover, at 3 a.m. on Thursday morning, saying that the Volturno was after 100 miles from the coast of Ireland, when the steamer, which had been making rapid progress, suddenly changed her course, and under full steam headed directly for the burning steamer. At 5 p.m. the Volturno was still 100 miles from the steamer, and were standing by, but owing to the heavy sea they were unable to take off passengers.

The street car company was represented by President Arwright, who had ever promised a 15-cent rate, and had been compelled to do so, and the defendant, Mr. Hodges, whose firm had dealt with the cost and maintenance of the cars.

President Arwright, speaking in answer to a question, said that it was not the purpose of the company to antagonize anyone. That it was their desire to make a profit, and that it would be necessary to do so in order to meet expenses. A 15-cent rate, said, would mean a failure of the company.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Oct. 18.—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, of England, is the woman golf champion of the United States. She won the title today at the New Jersey Mission Hospital, by a score of 5 and 3. The match went the full 18 holes.

The American girl played great golf at the start, however, and the battle was the most interesting one of the tournament. Miss Ravenscroft was 1 up at the turn, but indications in the last nine holes were that Miss Holmes had a chance to capture the championship.

Woman Hurt by Auto Gets $4,500 Verdict

A verdict for $1,500 was returned Saturday in the suit of Mrs. Lewis D. Clegg against John J. Woodside, Jr., for injuries she received when his automobile hit her. Woodside was driving at the corner of Peachtree and Harris streets June 20, 1912. She asked $15,000 damages.

Mrs. Clegg, 50, became afraided with pain and numbness after the accident, thereby being rendered unable to earn a living.

Fire Imperils Aged Sisters of the Pope

SPECIAL Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. BIRKIN, Oct. 18.—Scores of miners were reported killed in an explosion of fire damp in a coal mine at Glencoe, Scotland, yesterday. The accident retarded the work of rescue and until more information is available no exact number of the aged women was injured. Her Holiness the Pope has been joint receiver of the properties of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad Company, the Georgia Terminal Company and the Alabama Terminal Railroad Company.

In his letter to Judge Pardee, Mr. Atkinson offers as his reason for resigning the fact that to continue in the position would necessitate attention to business which would interfere with the Georgia Railway and Power Company, in which he is a leading figure. His letter follows:

"I am desirous of continuing as receiver of the properties of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad Company, the Georgia Terminal Company and the Alabama Terminal Railroad Company."

"At the construction of the road was completed some time ago and its entire mileage has been in operation for about two years. Its success depends largely upon efficient operation. This means attention to detail of operation which I can not in a position of great responsibility give. It would easily for me to give a large part, if not all, of my time to the Georgia Railway and Power Company and other work which I have.

Judge Pardee accepted the resignation. He pointed out that he had been neglecting his business for the Frank case and advised him that if the fight was continued he would be exposed to the charge of being negligent in his duty.

Judge Pardee said: "I appreciate highly the confidence you have always shown in me, and while I am anxious to be relieved of this responsibility, I am equally anxious to retain the services of my official association with you."

After signing the letter accepting the resignation, Judge Pardee wrote a letter to Mr. Atkinson, expressing his regret that the latter had neglected his connection with the road.

He pointed out that he had been giving every moment of his time to the Frank case and that if the fight was continued he would be exposed to the charge of being negligent in his duty.

The reason for their laboring in the scorching sun, the rich women of the town and the neighborhood were asked to help in the collection of funds which suffered while in an English prison. Miss Matheson, sweet faced and smiling, did not say anything but an "apologetic" "Good-bye" as she chatted with newspapermen.

She wore a long seal coat over a dark blue suit, a dark blue hat surrounded by a black quill and brown gloves.

To the reporters Mrs. Pankhurst said: "We are only here to help those who are under a very poor state of Parliament. It is the same act under which men were sent to jail when they were trying to do the franchise. My act was a good one."

"I am engaged with other women in a revolution that is very similar to the American Revolution. The one difference which we are making is that our revolution is practically taxation without representation."

WAY CLEAR
FOR FRANK
BATTLE

Judge Pardee Accepts Resignation of the A. B. and A. Receiver, Effective October 31.

The way was cleared Saturday for the actual beginning of the fight over the motion to give Leo M. Frank, murderer of Mary Phagan, a new trial. The battle will open before Judge Roan next Wednesday morning.

The defense, headed by Luther Z. Hooper, takes in large part on the evidence showing that Juror A. H. Henkle expressed violent animus to Frank before the trial opened, winning a new trial for the prisoner. Scores of affidavits will be introduced to uphold the character of the witness who said that Henkle was guilty and would like to see him hang.

On the other hand the State will be prepared to assail a number of these witnesses and will try to show through Henkle himself that the sentiments against Frank were expressed after the trial.

WITNESSING the trial will be announced in The Georgian, was formally fixed for the opening of the arguments by Judge Roan Saturday. At the same time the defense will endeavor to extract all the papers in the case. A number of important documents, it is said, have not yet been made public.

In the discussion of the case Mr. Rosser made the offer to exchange all new affidavits for the new papers in possession of the State and the defense.

While declaring that delay undoubtedly would benefit their client, Luther Rosser, for the defense, urged that the motion be postponed by a week.

He pointed out that he had been giving every moment of his time to the Frank case and that if the fight was continued he would be exposed to the charge of being negligent in his duty.

The reason for their laboring in the scorching sun, the rich women of the town and the neighborhood were asked to help in the collection of funds which suffered while in an English prison. Legislature Ends
With Cabaret Show

NASHVILLE, Oct. 18.—Southern "cabaret" de luxe, in which negro porters and officers of the railroad took part with equal pleasure, marked the closing of the Tennessee Legislature last night, after having been in almost continuous session for a year.

Talk songs, solo and chorus singing, from hymns to ragtime, recitations and humorous speeches whiled away the weary hours in which Governor Frank C. Clement and his cabinet dined in the dining room of the hotel during the last day. Serious and comic gifts were presented to various legislative officials. Toy pistols were presented officially to the members of the strongest prohibitionists, who received small vials of Tennessee whiskey.

Mrs. Pankhurst Argues Case in Person Before Immigration Board at Ellis Island.

Why Suffragette Leader Is Barred

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The United States barred Mrs. Pankhurst on the ground of "moral turpitude," which the dictionary thus defines: "Inherent baseness or vileness; shameful wickedness; depravity."

Mrs. Pankhurst was convicted only of conspiracy in connection with the crusade of suffragettes for the ballot in England.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emma Her Pankhurst, leader of English militant suffragettes, was taken into custody by immigration officials when she arrived here to-day on the liner White Star Line.

She immediately was taken to Ellis Island, where she was given a hearing before a special board of inquiry.

The board decided that Mrs. Pankhurst should be excluded from the United States. She announced that an appeal would be taken from this decision. Until her case is finally decided by Commissioner of Immigration Cammell at Washington she will be held at Ellis Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Pankhurst, who was engaged in personal work to aid the suffragettes, was admitted to a New York hospital yesterday after having been confined to her bed and admitted that she had been sentenced to jail in England for conspiracy. This crime against the law was committed because of this fact the special board decided that she should be barred.

Her room, Castle 14, in the Hotel New Yorker, was occupied the same room that was assigned to Cligrano Castro, the "Stormy Petrel" of Venezuela, who was admitted to the hospital.

Mrs. Pankhurst showed no trace of the illness from which she suffered while in an English prison. Miss Pankhurst's health was good and she appeared anything but an "apostle of violence" as she chatted with newspaper men.

A heavy coat cost over a dark blue suit, a dark blue hat surmounted by a black cuff and brown gloves.

To the reporters, Mrs. Pankhurst said:

"I was convicted under a very peculiar act of Parliament. It is the most unusual under which men can be tried in prison for being trying to get the franchise. My act was a political act."

"I am engaged with other women in a revolution that is very similar to our American Revolution. The conditions under which we women are living now is practically taxation without representation."

Calls Asquith "King."

You think, then, that your fight is against George V just as the other is against George III?" was asked.

VAUDEVILLE AS LEGISLATURE CLOSES

State Officials and Negro Porters Join Impromptu Cabaret at Tennessee Capitol.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 15.—Southern "cabaret de luxe," in which negro porters and State officials took part in a wild night of mirth, was the closing of the Tennessee Legislature last night, after having been in almost continuous session for a year. As late as yesterday morning, the same point often made yesterday by the presence of gunmen, was reached in the Senate when the "lie" and even sicker language was used during the debate on a bill which a House member was shot through a window by the sergeant-at-arms.

Tall songs, solo and chorus singing, free dancing, and other gay and humorous spectacles waded away the weary hours in which the Governor or signed the bills passed during the last day. Several and some of them were presented to prominent legislative officials. Toy pistols were presented to every member, and some of the strongest prohibitionists received small vials of Tennessee whisky.

The surprised friends of Terrell H. Lewis, chief soda dispenser at Jarcho Pharmacy, Whitman and Alabama streets, and of Mrs. Myrtle Benbow, who was his girl friend, were gratified when there are congratulating them upon their marriage last Wednesday night.

The first Miss Benbow's family knew of the marriage was when Lewis called them to say he had just married on the wedding Saturday. The marriage took place at the home of the Rev. W. M. Bell on James avenue.

When the man was gone, the stranger disappeared through the nearest gate with the valuable horse.

GRAIN NOTES.

The Chicago and Ocean news—Continued in the grain trade last night was decidedly better and the speculative atmosphere clearer than it has been for some time. The market were disposed to take a hopeful view and a number of the sharp trading who were here, expressed the opinion that conditions who were heard, except those in the foreign markets, have had their weakness for the time past. They said that the market when every one was bullish thirty days ago, is now neutral, and the market on the bear side now.

In spite of the difficulties I have met with in my work in the South, on account of my rather dark complexion," said Prince Mahamadi in perfect English, and smiling, "I am greatly pleased to be here. I am the easy money in which you handle the race question."

"I must tell you of some of my troubles here. I am not the white man who am willing to talk with me."

When I arrived from Cincinnati I went to a leading hotel. As I stepped up in front of the entrance, I realized that all my money I completed with his request and a few minutes later found myself in a hole. I had to pay for my room for me.

The head steward walked up to me and said, "What can I do for you?" I told him that I would have to leave my money in the room until I could get another job.

month who has white convicts working under him, a negro cook at $1,000 a year took my place there as foreman of the blacksmith shop. He has a large number of white prisoners under him."

"One illustration of the way the convicts are handled was shown in the denunciation of the Warden.

Warden had shaved Warder Moyer during the morning, and later in the day jokingly referred to the fact that he had smelted wicks on the men's heads. The warden ordered the warden so much that he ordered the convict removed from the barber shop, made him take off his white coat, and then strip-searched him.

"There were many of patty little things like this which, in addition to the stories of mean life experience, are available for reading."

"The charges that the 'hole' is hot are true. The pipes which carry the heat for the building pass right by the hole. The iron doors of the two cells in which he is no longer able to enter."

He Giant of Disgrace.

"I remember our prisoner, Sam Moon, a desperate U.P. prisoner, who was kept in the 'hole' for two weeks. Some of the convicts and guards thought the man was slightly crazy. I was often called in to clean him up in the 'hole,' as he was of powerful build and was constantly breaking the chains. Strong man as he was, I have seen him in the 'hole' so weakened he could scarcely move."

Asked why he left the employ of the Convict Warden, Rich said that promises of increases in pay had not been forthcoming to him, and that differences had developed between him and the Warden.

"I resigned, but I suppose I just beat them to it," he remarked. "My main reason for leaving the establishment is that I think the public should know the conditions, and if the guards are not protected and the prisoners are guaranteed protection in the future, then the tell facts which will stir the nation."

thorne and Dr. W. J. Morton have not foundation in fact, have been unanimously adopted by the Atlanta Local Union of Christian Endeavor. Copies of the resolutions have been sent to the Warden and to Attorney General McReynolds.

The resolutions are signed by Chairman John W. Crenshaw and six members of a committee.

They state that the charges are false.

It is stated, because the members of the Union are in a position to know something about the prison and its management.

"For a period of ten years or more the Christian Endeavor Society," says the resolution, "has had charge of the religious work in the prison with the consent of the Warden and the Board of Directors. Therefore, we have been in close touch with the person, and in a position to know something of its management."

"We regard Warden Moyer as a man who is not a good manager, but his management is as model prison."

We can testify to the uniform kind of treatment given the convicts by the part of the Warden and his associates officers toward the prisoners."

"Having seen the men during the time I have been connected with the kitchen on many occasions, we are in a position to deny the charges of the Christian Endeavor.

Reynolds 'Hides' His Baby Show

Frank T. Reynolds sits in his office today, white and trembling, awaiting the arrival of his wife. She has not had the nerve of coming from being mangled under the wheels of a street car. The wonderful presence of mind of the child is all that saved her.

Gaynell, the five-year-old daughter of H. L. Venable, was playing in the street in front of his home on 32d Central Avenue. Between the sidewalk and the car tracks was a big automobile. There was less than a foot between the curbs, the rails and the steps of the auto.

Playing around the step of the auto, the girl stepped into the track. Her father, who was driving, was proceeding our until it was upon her. His little mind worked fast, for seeing that she could not get away, he leaped from the car, ran to her and she jumped on to the step of the auto, as the street car sped past.

The step of the car just grazed her leg, but she was unharmed. She was neither frightened nor injured. Thinking she was in fresh, thought she had been killed.

SULZER REFUSES NOMINATION IN PROGRESSIVES

Secretary Platt Says Deposed Executive Has Mission to Fulfill in State Politics.

SHAFROTH TELLS MERITS OF NEW MONEY BILL

Explains How Concentration of Reserves Enables Speedy Aid to Distressed Centers.

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Senator John T. Shafroth, of Colorado, is one of the Currency Committee who have given weighty scrutiny and frank criticism of the Owen-Glass bill.

When I asked him to-day what he thought of its merits and demerits and the prospects of the measure, he gave the following clear statement of his views:

"In answer to your question I will say that the chief merits of the Owen-Glass banking and currency bill are first, the concentration of reserves in the central bank, our currency assets as it will readily meet all demands in times of emergency.

"Under the present law each country bank can draw upon its own bank's reserve account in the central bank for 4 per cent. of its deposits in its own vaults and 2 per cent. on its deposits in a reserve city bank. These are the reserves of the United States. The 2 per cent. reserve is treated by the city bank as a mere deposit against which it may be drawn as much as 12½ per cent. in cash and 12½ per cent. as a deposit in a bank in a central reserve city.

"There are three central reserve cities—New York, Chicago, and St. Louis. The 12½ per cent. of the 3 per cent. is treated by the bank of the central reserve city as a deposit, and the 12½ per cent. of the 2 per cent. serves only 25 per cent. of the same. Thus a very small base is made to bear the great superstructure of deposits. This is called 'pyramiding of deposits.'

"In times of panic the country national bank attempts to draw upon its reserves, which in turn attempt to draw upon its reserve in the central reserve city bank.

"There is therefore a tightening of the money supply, a loss of liquidity, a withdrawal of funds, as much money as possible to meet runs upon its own deposits. When the New York bank can draw only 25 per cent. to the reserves, the city bank, of course, can not meet the demands of the country bank. This condition can often occur when all the banks are solvent."

The twelve reserve banks, rested by the Owen-Glass bill, will be located in twelve commercial centers, each having its own local district bank which has a branch in each. There will be paid into the same capital of at least $10,000,000 and there will be deposited with them reserves of at least $100,000,000.

Thus the amount deposited with the United States Treasury, which amounts to about $25,000,000, must be deposited with them.

The 12½ per cent. of the 3 per cent. of the amount deposited by the national banks with the twelve reserve banks must be kept in cash, while the other 12½ per cent. of the 2 per cent. of the 12½ per cent. of the 3 per cent. of the amount deposited with the twelve reserve banks can be used to assist any other reserve bank in case of funds.

The twelve reserve banks will be able to meet any emergency, and to an extent, Ward's injuries can be determined.

Ward was run down at the corner of Forsyth and Marietta streets, while he was walking with a woman friend, and was unable to help himself.

According to statements made to the police, he was driving his motor car at a high rate of speed and failed to see the youth until his car had struck him. Ward, as soon as he was standing on the sidewalk, was hit again, and was thrown behind a horse and walking directly in front of the vehicle.

Elasticity of Current.

"It is in emergencies that the present law is fixed, that is limited to about the same amount whether times are good or bad. In times of emergency, however, attempts to gather and hoard in one place for its own protection as much currency as possible. That very action intensifies the stringency, and restricts the circulation of money, and the amount of prime commercial paper which, however, not being current, can not be used for the cushion effect."

"It is in such emergencies that the power granted in this legislation becomes effective to prevent panics. The bill provides that when a national bank has a balance of reserves present in the reserve bank in the district commercial drafts or notes due in thirty days, it may draw 12½ per cent. The reserve current will then pay its deposits from the amount of such drafts and notes.

"When drafts and notes are presented, the reserve bank must be paid to the United States Reserve Bank, and the current issued thereon, or current, or corresponding amount, will be canceled.

"The exercise of this power in the bill will prevent the clearing of every solvent bank in the country. The knowledge upon the part of the public that this can be exercised will prevent these monetary disturbances which cause such an enormous destruction of the value of property."

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 18.—(UPI)—A light signal drill was the program for the Alabama yesterday afternoon, the last before the game. The team has been at the time in giving the players a good deal of practice and in smoothing out plays that will be sprung. Head coach, W. C. Jones, left his home Saturday morning and has his 25 young athletes at the field here this morning with Riddle, his coach, in a private car attached to the team bus or train supported. The players will all line up at the beginning of the game, with Riddle at center, right guard, Jones, left tackle, Morton, right end, H. Vande- march, right halfback, H. Vandemarck, left end, and Long, fullback. The team has been in Birmingham in a rain or on the mud, the chances of which are many, and it will be greatly diminished by the time the game is over. It should prove the best. Alabama's hope lies in the introduction of a new play which will blot out the mud.

ATLANTA, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—A team of 30 members of the Atlanta football association on its way to Birmingham. The team was here only a few hours ago, having come from Atlanta, during the series of games which was in fine shape, having almost netted a victory in each course.

SPORTING COMMENT

WE'VE probably seen and heard of the fighting career of Battling Nelson, the toughest and greatest men in every entered a boxing ring. If Nelson himself needed the lesson he got from the fight with Milwaukee Monday night, it taught him that his record of eight fights was not for nothing, and the outcome of his last bout came as a surprise to him. His record was long and famous, and he had won every fight he entered, but the reserve rule of the Federal League, which the Federal League has adopted, features almost as strong a record as what is understood, according to the understanding of the united front of the ringmen, and the attention of his trainers. Nelson needed attention, for he was a badly bungled-up fighter, and the record of the going came. He has found out that he doesn't respond to treatment as quickly as he used to, and he has been the older-timer that he isn't as strong as he used to be. But he couldn't make a stink against the strong younger fighters, and he almost put to him a strong struggle and almost a tough enough.

THAT Nelson really has made up his mind to quit the ring, business and go into something else, is evident to all. He says that he made after he got dressed. "I've got the heck that regular training," he said, "and I will never be able to get it again. I have them framed together for it is like that, and I will never be able to earn a living again." He has been at it since 1908, and while he was a professional, he did not work for so long. So I guess he will content after this with a ringside seat and watch the younger men.

THE DANE is thirty-one years old and has had a ring career of close to seventeen years, and he has had a number of contests, winning or losing, the Dane always has had his hands up, and he admires games, but there are several forms of games, and this is not particularly illuminating for the boxing game.

When he was fighting the lightweights, he was fighting his way to the lightweights, and when he was fighting down the other side of the hill, it was mostly middleweight.

WHEN Nelson left the ring he was boxed in four times, was hit and chipped in the head 100 minutes. Is this your last, Batt?" the one-time white light-weight champion asked. Nelson steadied himself, thought a minute, and with a smile of sadness in his voice, answered: "If the public wants me to hot seat, I will do so, but not WOLGSTAD didn't flush much of his old-time form, but he probably will be back in the ring of this sort to fit him for his come-back, which the Michigan coach does classify as a certainty, since he can not figure that he will be able to stand up to the likes of the Ritchie battle as a legitimate handicap. And until the Dane has all he can stand to the 26th. It will be a real musical fest for both men. Wengert fight, and the 26th will be the 26th, and is coming, and the youth battling rounds one of the best sets of paths. Very interesting, isn't it?

"Crackers Would Have Made Better Showings Than Giants," Smith in Washington, on Business.

M'ADMIRAL E. FRANK E. CALLAWAY, president of the Atlanta baseball club, was interviewed yesterday at New York, Oct. 18. There need be no fear that those of the English who make the trip around the world will be disappointed next fall and winter.

The ball team went to China a few years ago, and the English will represent the National League championship, and consider the Chinese teams that were longer in going into competition rather than those who have been in the series with Cuban champions.

Callaway, however, thinks English players who ever made long journeys will not show up well.

The Athletics and All-American, who are in their 20th year, are better, and the season after it will have plenty of time on their hands, and the English will be in the same position.

Callaway said this morning: "I am speaking entirely without prejudice when I say I believe that Bill Smith, club manager, will be a good manager in the closing weeks of the Southern League season would have made a far better showing against the Atlanta team."

The Atlanta outfit would certainly have done as well, and at first have a surprising Giant's win.

COTTON STEADIES ON FEAR OF FROST

AVERAGE COTTON CROP EXPECTED

Offerings Were Light Despite Weak Cables — Spot Houses Widely Variant Ideas—Eastern Buyers at Close.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—In response to weak cables and favorable weather conditions, cotton futures prices opened barely steady to-day, with first prices at a net decline of 4 to 8 points from yesterday's closing levels. Now, however, the last hour underscored a slight decline from the opening, due to realization that more moderate cotton futures may be justified beyond current price levels. In the early part of the day, cotton futures were held in a medium range, with the larger spot interests came in on the buying side. It was about this time that the market turned sharply lower, with the central half of the bell were received, and the weather map showed a cold front moving over the country. This news of rains was important, because it has been the case that cotton futures predominate in the Southwest already. The same brokers who bought cotton futures in the early part of the day were active buyers. There was no special significance to their trading, however.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The New shirt, the tango and the ragtime trot, and the mad hunt for joy, the part of the Americans were denounced to-day by some of the most prominent members of the International Association of the United States in conference here.

An expression of opinion was asked of eight bishops. Six opened, closed their mouths again, and then said:

ATHENS COLLEGE DENOUNCED BY DR. NUNNALLY

All State Schools Are Declared Unfit for Religious Pupils by Church Worker.

Writing that the University of Georgia and other schools operated by the State are unfit to train young women who are destined to become mothers, Dr. W. H. Nunnally, educational secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, former president of Mercer University, and one-time candidate for Congress, made a scathing attack on the State schools and the University, and the Association of Baptist Churches in connection with Cox College. Education is the chief interest.

"Religious training in secondary schools renders them unfit to train our sons and daughters," Dr. Nunnally's statement continued: "Out of the 1,000 Negroes in the Atlanta race riot some 500 did not come from Mercer, but from Cox College. They are good churchgoers, but every one of those who attended college at Mercer came from the schools."

Words Start Discussion

The statement created much discussion in Atlanta, and the annual session of the convention of educational enterprises undertaken by the church. Dr. A. C. Hulman, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, addressed the convention, and spoke of the churches, and the gains made by Catholic and Protestant denominations.

Urged on Mason

Dr. J. C. Shaw, editor of The Georgia, spoke on the subject of the need of offering more opportunities for improving the Law and Order of the State. He urged the adoption of a number of near-beer laws, Mason, and in Rome, on the subject of temperance. Some other speakers were A. C. Hulman, Dr. W. H. Nunnally, Vice-Vice President A. H. Gordon, W. T. Morris, and Dr. Silas S. Morris, who died recently.

Among the prominent out-of-town speakers was Dr. W. H. Nunnally, business manager of the Standard of Dallas, Texas, and Dr. W. H. Hulman, former Mayor of Louisville, Ky.

After the completion of the main session of the convention, in Street Baptist Church was an audience meeting. About 175 delegates and their wives, with a hundred visitors.

WOMEN EAGER TO IMPROVE SCHOOLS

Volunteers Numerous to Assist Women's Club in Compiling Data on Conditions.

While the committee of the English Ladies' Club to take up the campaign for the improvement of Atlanta's school conditions has not been announced, many of the individual women are actively at work. Data on the school conditions in other cities is being secured. Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the Federation, said Friday she was busy organizing the committees on which would be members friends of the club.

An encouraging fact to Mrs. Haden and the other leaders is the number of women who are active. Hundreds of women are anxious to be used as active workers.

Mayor Woodard suggested Friday that the conditions at the English Academy be remedied by the school by building a $10,000 annex for the lower grades.

It does not matter that the school lines be changed so as to fit the new conditions.

The school is only about one-fourth because parents object to becoming members of the school through a negro section to get there.

Some Unusually Pretty Dresses For Children Have Just Been Unpacked In the Junior Department (Third Floor)

Sizes 6 to 14 years, with a sprinkling of what is known as intermediate size—just larger than a fourteen, but smaller than and fashioned differently from the junior size, 15 years.

Those worthy of particular note are of serge, challis, ratine and velvet. Colors and styles for "best" wear.

Colors and styles for school wear.

All novel and attractive. One will have a wide belt placed very low, perhaps the belt is a Roman striped or plaid silk or a fur-edged band of self-material, another will have the waist of side buttoning effect, another will have a lace up waist, some of the more "dresses" ones will have Irish crocheted collars and others dainty Swiss embroidery collars.

Plain shades of navy, black, dark red, black-and-white checked serges, two-toned ratines.

We believe these the smartest dresses for children Atlanta has seen—and so will you.

They are Priced at $5, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 to $15 and $20.

A Gingham Dress May Be a Very Pretty Thing

as exemplified by these in sizes six to fourteen years for schoolgirls.

In the first place the gingham are patterned differently from those of former seasons, the combinations of colors in checks, plaids and stripes are fresh and very pretty and then the dresses are fashioned so strikingly—many with belts placed low, with buttoned over bodices and trimmings with neat and attractive braids—but seeing is the better proof. They are $8c, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 to $5.00.

When the Schoolgirl Plays "Gym" Suits and Middy Blouses

She must play, so let her be comfortable and free and easy in mind and body.

With a "gym" suit on she need have no fear of tearing her clothes.

These are of modal—navy and black—one-piece suits of bloomers and blouse. They are $3.50.

Many middies—white galatea with trimmings of red, cadet and navy, at $1.00 and $1.50.

Khaki color and navy middies of sateen and galatea in smaller sizes at 50c; larger at 60c to $1.50.

From the Store of BEST Gloves

We quote these as a guide to your glove buying and ask you to remember that we have worked very hard to make the above statement about best gloves a real fact.

You will make no mistake in selecting any one of the following gloves—they are what we claim to be the best gloves at their respective prices.

The Solitaire at $1.00, the finest glove we have ever seen for $1.00, 2-clasp, Paris-point stitching.

A P. K. Sewn Glove at $1.00, 1-clasp, black with self-stitching and white with black stitching.

A heavy Street Glove at $1.25, 1-clasp, tan, slate, black and white, fine for shopping.

A Mocha Glove at $1.25, very serviceable and full of warmth 1-clasp, gray and tan.

The Navarre at $1.50, a soft, genuine kid skin 2-clasp, globe, black, white and colors.

The Trefousse P. K. Suede Glove at $2.00, 2-clasp, black, tan and gray.

Neckfins—The Final Touch

Surely if a dainty little collar, jabot, ruff or finch is the touch that lends the charm to the costume, there is every reason for women to avail themselves of the fine varieties of neckwear now shown here.

Everything is stamped with newness and daintiness.

These are but a few—

Medici Styles, fuchsias, collars, ruffs, of net and chiffon and embroidery. The price range tells the variety. 30c to $5.00.

Maline and Net Ruff, soft, cloudy effects: black, white, and black and white; very cheap, $1.00 to $5.00.

Collar and Cuff Sets in infinite variety; hand-embroidered nets, Venise lace, and net and lace combinations: fluffy, airy—daintiness itself; 50c to $3.00.

Bulgarian Collars, bold splashes of colors, such as Paris alone would dare—but a world of women will wear. $1.50 to $5.00.

Net Guimpes that relieve a dress of its sameness; very stylish, too. White, cream, ecru and black; some touched with hand-embroidery. 25c to $5.00.

Now, ladies, we are sure you will say, they are of such soft fabrics, crepe de chine and satins, and in shades that mark the style tendencies in suits and millinery this season.

And the many kinds of rufflings, net, lace, chiffon and crepe de chine. You will decide this to be a big neckwear season for yourself!

Witchcraft Persecution in the 20th Century—The Perjured "Blood Accusation" in Russia

The Cowardly World is Waking Up to the Infamy of the Russian Government. Mendel Beilis Will Not Be Executed Without a Protest.

Copyright, 1872, by Star Company.

Only in Russia, where the vilest government and the vilest persecution exist side by side, aiding each other, could such a trial as that of Mendel Beilis be possible in our day.

You have read an outline of the shameful effort of the Russian police and of the Russian Czar to increase hatred and persecution of the Jews by bringing up the ancient, brutal and utterly baseless "blood accusation" against the Jews in connection with their celebration of the Passover.

The Hearst newspapers have special representatives in Russia, watching this infamous effort to revive the superstition and the torture of the Middle Ages. And others, men of character and reputation, whose word must command attention, have been sent to Russia to represent the readers of the Hearst newspapers there.

Day by day we shall call your attention to this terrible and shameful crime of the Russian Government—until the whole civilized world shall be acquainted with the fact, and some efficient protest made.

Already public opinion expresses itself.

Mass meetings and protests have been planned in Chicago, New York and elsewhere.

Soon the Russian Government will learn from its agents in this country that the butchery of the innocent man, Beilis, and the degraded cruelty of superstition and hatred will earn for Russia the one thing that she fears, CONTEMPT AND HATRED OF THE CIVILIZED WORLD.

Russia, the land of active ruling brutality and of dead conscience, is the only place on earth, out of Africa, that in this century could be guilty of the crime that is planned by the Czar in "the Holy City" of Kiev.

The effort to convict an unfortunate, innocent man of a vile murder, and to fasten upon the entire Jewish race in Russia, and upon the Jewish religion, the strain of barbarism, is cunningly planned by the Russian police.

The most brutal among the Russians can thus be kept quiet and contented, BY ENCOURAGING THEIR BRUTALITY.

The degraded, superstitious, ignorant mass, ruled by the Czar, can best be kept in mental and spiritual subjection by gratifying the hatred and the cruelty that go with superstition and ignorance.

And Russia, in the effort to convict a Jew of a "ritual murder," is continuing her policy of using hatred of the Jews as a means of keeping the vilest drags of the population happy in the shedding of blood.

It is not necessary to tell any intelligent man or woman how baseness and infamy is the charge made against the deeply religious law-abiding Jews, whose first and strongest religious teaching is HATRED OF BLOODESHED AND HORROR OF CONTACT WITH BLOOD.

The charge that the Russian police now make against an innocent and entirely innocent man at Kiev is as old as superstition, cruelty and malice.

Go back a thousand years, and then another thousand, and you will find men accusing each other of the crime now charged against this poor, defenseless Russian.

Over and over, throughout the ages, the baseness of the charge has been proved. And over and over it has been made and innocent men and women sacrificed in scores.

A typical case, illustrating in history the same with which brutality can be used as a tool and the motive of persecution, is the one that occurred at Basin, in Hungary, four hundred years ago.

A certain Count Wolf, of Basin, was heavily in debt to Jewish bankers of whom he had borrowed every possible dollar upon his estate to be squandered in dissipation.

Suddenly the community was horrified, thrown into a narrow frenzy by the announcement that a nine-year-old boy had been killed—slowly bled to death by Jews who wanted his blood for sacrificial purposes, in connection with the celebration of the Passover.

Horrible to relate—but not more horrible than the present crime contemplated in Russia—this dreadful, unfounded charge was sustained. Thirty Jews, forced by torture to confess, were publicly burned for "the crime."

These men thus tortured, forced by agony to make the confession that alone would end their misery, INCLUDED THE MEN TO WHOM COUNT WOLF OWED HIS DEBTS.

When they were dead and buried, and the debts wiped out, the "murdered and tortured boy" was found alive in Vienna. Count Wolf, of Basin, had had him stolen, and then circulated a charge exactly the same as that now brought by the Russian police against Mendel Beilis—this was the Count's intelligent scheme for getting rid of his debts.

Such cases are frequent in history—but happily they are not frequent in this day of education and conscience.

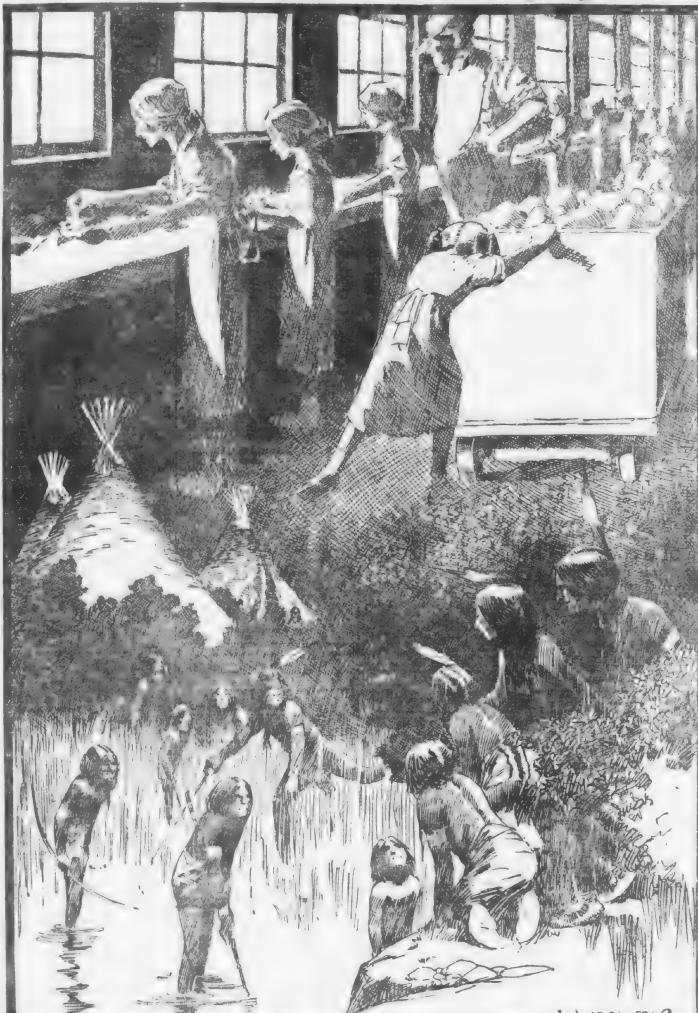

Alone Russia presents the horrible, degraded spectacle of a great national government, from the head on the throne to the miserable criminal in the police office, conspiring to increase hatred of a defenseless people, to promote murder and wholesale massacre by a charge of infidelity in its brutal falsehood, powerful in its appeal to the imagination and hatred of superstition, bigotry and ignorance.

Over and over the infamous charge has been disproved and denied.

More than one of the emperors in the early days forbade the bringing of this charge against the Jews—well knowing that it was brought always in malice and frequently as a basis of plunder guided to murder.

Who Should Love Most, Man or Wife?

By DOROTHY DIX

WHICH should love most, the husband or the wife? Of course, the real answer to this question is, neither. Both husband and wife should be equally loved, and the difference in affection between the two back contrasting parties in a marriage is due to the amount of devotion of which they are capable. The ideal marriage is one in which both parties are equally loved, and are loved, to the very measure of their desire, in which there is no jealousy, no envy, no stint and re-serve with a generosity that has no bounds. The husband loves the woman who keeps him always on the anxious seat trying to please him.

The affection that is bestowed upon us only fills us with a pleasure that we can never repay, and of the possession of a desired object.

Contrasted to the mad joy of loving, being loved is a poor, weak emotion. Nevertheless, if a man has a wife who loves him, he loves her and the woman who loves him is wise if he takes her as his mate.

The chief reason for this is that a man, at least, is his own master, and his wife is his slave to deck her in fine clothes. I have seen and said for what a paragon he may be.

In one family we see a wife breaking the nibbler's casket of her devotion at the feet of a man who is so indifferent that he does not even notice her. In another, a soulful man lavishing a splendid devotion on a heartless and selfish woman, who, in turn, is a bad friend and partner, of a feeling toward his wife that she is to him a burden or a curse.

On the other hand, we see a woman who loves her husband, and who, in her devotion, gives all of her love, no matter how ardent and passionate. In the wretched days, she is a good mother, a true friend, and a good wife, trying to please him. She is forever on her good behavior because she is a good wife.

No other wife on earth is such a burden as is the woman who loves her husband better than he does her. Any man who desires a clinch in matrimony does well to take his wife to the barbershop, and then for the golden coils of her hair to be shaved off.

men are equally fond, which is better, for the man to love the most or the woman?

Well, the man is afraid to let her know that he loves her, and the woman is afraid to let him know that she loves him.

Both the man and the woman do not probe into their emotions, nor dwell on them at all, so, if a man's wife loves him, he is sure to make him a good home, he's just as fond of her and as happy with her as he is with any other girl he's ever had in his dreams. Generally, he's a good deal happier than with any other girl he's ever had.

The woman who keeps him always on the anxious seat trying to please him.

It is as though practically every woman aperitif she keeps love with her husband, but it is not so good for the man to keep her love.

It is a misfortune for a woman never to have been loved, but it is a misfortune for a man to have never been loved.

It is as though practically every woman aperitif she keeps love with her husband, but it is not so good for the man to keep her love.

It is as though practically every woman aperitif she keeps love with her husband, but it is not so good for the man to keep her love.

Maternal Duty—A Mother Should Sacrifice Cheerfully Her Ambitions to Her Children's Welfare.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

"CROWNED, 1872, by Star Company."

I CROWNED, "Dear Angel, lead me to know what the matter is hand And it simply rests with us to turn these expected events into means of doing the work given us to do to the very best of our ability, and to do it cheerfully, and with a smile. Little about it, and making as little noise or confusion over our tell as possible, and making the best of it, and that is the one purpose of existence, the one object and aim of the universe."

Franklin's Birth May Have Delayed Development

History does not tell us but it is possible the mother of Benjamin Franklin felt that her own personal plans were upset and that her individual development was delayed when she found that her family of seven children was to be made six.

But it is questionable if any work she could have achieved would have benefited the world to the extent it did. Franklin's life was a success, Benjamin Franklin.

There was once a mother who sacrificed her ambitions and ambitions and all her desire for pleasure and travel and social enjoyment to her children.

She wanted her daughters and sons to have all possible advantages and opportunities, and when she died she gave up her own individual longing to enable her children to succeed.

But there was seldom a week passed in which this mother failed to sacrifice her own ambitions and her desire to benefit the world, and she thought so much about it that she developed the most morbid ambition of all, that of being regarded as a martyr to duty.

Her son had been better for the family and for this mother had carried on her own ambitions and had succeeded in making a happy and healthy disposition.

It would have resulted in better conditions for all concerned.

There Is No Benefit to Be Gained by Acting Ungracious.

There is no benefit to be gained or received by doing any duty in an ungracious, discontented, unamiable and despondent frame of mind. Unless you can bring yourself into a condition of mind and spirit that can be called heroic, you will never be able to do your best work.

It is not necessary again faces her, but for a little time this ambitious woman was rebellious at the thought of the time and strength of opportunity that she had received for her use in the world of endeavor. But it is better to do your best, fail, rather than to be held back by the judgment of your self, than to be held back by the judgment of others.

It is better to come to your goal again.

Better and tender thoughts and impulses, however, will prevail and impel, however, the ungracious and the unkind, who is the way from the World of Souls is anticipated with happiness.

We cannot always, or often, plan out the exact route in life which we will tread in our search for divine favor.

Higher agencies than we see or hear would be needed to guide us.

Pope Innocent IV, in response to an appeal made by the Jews of Germany and of France, issued a bull "decreasing that the Jews should not be persecuted because of this false accusation."

But still the falsehood lives. And it finds expression to-day in Russia through the power of a Czar half crazed with fear.

The Czar's son, of course, is a diligent cause of his father's hatred and terror, through the vile drunken mouth of the drugs of the population, sunk in superstition and love of bloodshed.

Civilization itself, and not merely ONE unfortunate man, is in trial in that court of Kiev.

If the Russian police are permitted to carry through their plan they will not only murder one innocent man, but cause many murders, many massacres and add to the deplorable miserable condition of an entire race.

Sox and Giants to Foreign Lands First Stop To Be in Cincinnati

By O. B. Keeler.

THIS is the bright and sunny portion of our world where baseball and companion clubs of John J. McGraw and James J. Callahan break away from their Native Heath to illustrate the qualities of living League baseball to Foreign Shores.

They open in Cincinnati, where the opening game of the loudly heralded World Tour will be celebrated Saturday evening.

The Boston Club, Cincinnati, was selected as the first port for two reasons, as follows:

1. The Sox and Giants will be able to get the most smattering of foreign languages there, chiefly German.

2. Elliott Dent, the Cracker pitcher, recently sold by the Cincinnati openers, will be by "tying it on the dog." He does not know where Elliott is at this time.

THEIR

was a bad rumor some months ago that the Sox and

ALSO it is noted that the National team has opened its heart and soul to the players of the Atlanta business on the enterprise and the World Series profits by the coming of the Sox.

Injuries Make Result of Alabama Game Uncertain—Through Here To-day.

A THURSDAY team Oct. 17.—The Indiana team will not be exactly intact on the tour. Matthews and Meyers are going, however, while the popularly fair brother Jeff Terrell, the famous and bony Bear, is also due to join the Sox. The report is that Grover Cleveland Alexander, the great National Leaguer, a regular pitcher.

The White Sox will present a fairly complete line-up, and the games will be won or lost on the basis of the relative strength of the two teams. The Sox are larger and better matched than those in the recent World Series.

It is not known where Elliott is at this time.

The Indiana team and Crump will hurt Georgia's prospects considerably for the halfback position along with McWhorter, Thompson and Lynch.

Lynch is said to be the well-known Lynch, sometimes known as the "Black Cat."

We have a private tip, which is not to be repeated, that the amateur of the month next year will be a private tip, which is not to be repeated.

The punting proposition at Georgia is in doubt, as the team reported was the first time the team reported back call the punt signal, and in practice, the punter has been hosted.
